SERVICE AS BROAD AS THE COMMUNITY

War Camp Community Service Provides Numberless Intimate Comforts For Soldiers

Club rooms for soldiers, entertainments for the boys in khaki, outings for convalescent men back from France, small, but appreciated services to soldiers and their relatives and friends—these are some of the manifold activities of the War Camp Community Service.

The War Camp Community Service comes close to the intimate life of the soldier and provides for his mental as well as physical comfort by furnishing the facilities which make it possible for him to relax from the strain of military training and the preparation for overseas fighting.

Its symbol is the red circle and its activities are as unending as the circumference of its insignia. Thousands of soldier boys take advantage of its facilities and other thousands of relatives and friends of the boys in Uncle Sam's uniform are daily benefited through its various avenues of effort.

BUILDING MORALE OF JEWISH TROOPS

Work Of Jewish Welfare Board Producing Splendid Results In Camps and Trenches

No more effective work toward maintaining the highest morale among the American troops has been done by any war organization than by the Jewish Welfare Board, which is engaged in its task of keeping up the lines of communication between the Jewish men in the trenches and training camps and the folks back home.

Believing that in the struggle of morale against "kultur" the American army has every advantage that will insure success, the Jewish organization is making its chief issue the stiffening of mental and moral fibre among the soldiers of the Hebrew faith. The call for workers is urgent and rabbin, professional men, journalists, social workers and others are entering the service of the Jewish Welfare Board to make up the 400 workers needed to fill the ranks.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ANXIOUS FOR BOOKS

American Library Association Providing Reading Matter for Boys On Battle Fronts

Despite the fact that the ocean transportation facilities are being taxed to the utmost, the task of providing reading matter for the boys in the trenches is being handled with an efficiency and dispatch that is surprising even to those who are closely in touch with the situation.

The American Library Association, which has shouldered the responsibility of collecting books, magazines and newspapers by the millions in every city and town throughout the country, is distributing this huge quantity of reading matter to the men in France through the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, the Knights of Columbus and the Salvation Army.

SIX Y. W. C. A. WOMEN ESCAPE FROM RUSSIA

Atlanta, Ga.—The six secretaries sent to Russia a year ago by the Young Women's Christian Association to organize the work of the association in Petrograd and other large cities, have escaped from Russia, is the news just received.

The whereabouts of these six women had been unknown for months. Whether they were alive or dead, had been a mere matter of guess work.

Conservation Day Oct 27

Food Administrator Hoover has called upon the American people to set aside October 27th as Conservation Sunday. During that week there will be distributed to each home in the United States a new home card, indicating the 1918-1919 program for food conservation. In order that the important features of this vital program be presented, Mr. Hoover has prepared a message to be read in all churches on October 27th, and in addition has requested that all denominations observe this day with a conservation service.

When the interallied food council was held last summer, the needs of the Allies were computed and the resources from which they could be met were reckoned. Corrected as the returns from the harvest were ascertained and the shipping possibilities were developed, the schedules show that America must this coming year send our armed forces and the Allies half as much again of food supplies as last year. In place of eleven and three-quarters million tons the shipments this year will be seventeen and one-half million tons. We are pledged to send fifty per cent more food and from substantially the same stocks as last year there must be increased conservation to accomplish the result. The interallied council was told that whatever the war-food program of the Allies requires we will endeavor to meet. This is an obligation measured in the terms of human life that rests on every American.

The new program is less specific but no less definite than that of the last twelve months. Then the Food Administration was meeting one emergency after another as it arose. This year it will be a long, steady pull directed to whole food situation and not so much to particular commodities. After a year's experience the Food Administration is on a new footing here and abroad. The ways have been learned, the methods have been developed. The war conscience is active everywhere. The spirit which will carry this effort through to another triumph is alone the same, yet intensified by the year of anxiety and brightened hopes.

Mr. Hoover's message for Conservation Sunday will be distributed to the clergy through the organization of the Federal Food Administration in each State.

Mrs. Mollie Burbanks

On last Saturday night, October 12, Mrs. Mollie Findley Burbanks died in Caruthersville, Missouri, while on a visit to her sister, Mrs. H. L. Fisher. Her remains were forwarded to Memphis where she was laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery Tuesday, October 14. And on the day following her burial her brother, Grover Cleveland Findley, went to join her in that peaceful mansion where parting is no more and all is joy and happiness. He had been a sufferer in the tuberculosis hospital in Memphis, Tennessee for a number of months, and dear bereaved ones let this thought comfort you that though this brother and sister will be sadly missed, that they are much better off, and now let each of you so live as to be prepared to meet them when the summons calls for you.

Both the deceased were born in Somerville and spent the early part of their lives here. Those surviving are Mrs. J. W. Shinnault of this city, Mrs. C. K. Brigrance of Memphis; Mrs. H. L. Fisher of Caruthersville, Missouri; and a brother, W. B. Findley, who is "Somewhere in France" and the saddest of all, Mrs. Burbanks leaves a dear little baby girl, Zelma Marie, only six months old. May God's richest blessings be bestowed upon it, and His loving hand ever guide and protect this precious little one who is left without a father's or a mother's love.

A NIECE

Purchase Japan Clover Seed Now

The advantage of using Japan clover on poor spots of the farm where red clover might possibly be desired but would not grow is being shown by J. C. McAmis, specialist in agronomy of the division of extension, University of Tennessee. The point is made that on poorer soils results may be expected with Japan clover, but may be hastened by seeding the crop rather than by waiting for it to volunteer. He cites the instance of one who sowed five pounds of Japan clover at the same time that he sowed eight pounds of Herd's grass in early March and who had success. His advice to farmers is to buy Japan clover seed now to be ready for the spring season if they expect to use any at all.

Goosman-Bowers

A pretty wedding was quietly solemnized in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. G. Richardson, 2110 Evelyn Avenue, last evening, when Miss Lilly Franklin Goosman, daughter of Mr. Fred Goosman of Somerville, Tenn., became the bride of Mr. F. J. Bowers of Birmingham, Ala.

The rooms thrown open for the occasion were prettily decorated in a green and yellow motif. Large wicker baskets filled with goldenrod and tied with filmy tulle bows were artistically arranged about the rooms. An archway of greenery studded with yellow flowers, caught with filmy tulle bows, marked the place of the ceremony, which was read at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. C. H. Williamson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, where the bride for several years has been an ardent worker in the junior department.

For the occasion the bride wore a becoming model of brown silver-tone cloth with hat and accessories in harmony with a corsage bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies. Little Miss Lilly

Franklin Goosman, niece of the bride, wearing yellow tulle, carried the ring in a bride rose.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bowers left for their future home in Birmingham.

The above account taken from last Sunday's Commercial Appeal is of interest to Somerville people where the bride spent all her life until a few years ago when she went to Memphis where she has held a very responsible position with the New York Life Insurance Company. During her residence here she was one of this city's most popular young people. She has the education and culture added to innate refinement, together with grace and personal character to make happy the home of her husband and the interest and good wishes of this community go with her to her new home.

The groom is a lumber man of Birmingham and is engaged with his company at this time on war work for the Government.

Fourth Liberty Loan Quota in Fayette County Will Be Reached

In an interview Thursday morning with Capt. E. A. Maddox, County Chairman of the Liberty Loan Organization, The Falcon learned that sufficient progress has been made in soliciting subscriptions for the Fourth Loan in this county to assure the county reaching her quota of $166,000 set by the Treasury Department. This sum is more than double former quotas for this county, but the conditions have made securing subscriptions easier and Capt. Maddox bears from local committees in every part of the county that the people are coming right up to their responsibility and their ability and subscribing liberally, so liberally that he feels sure that when the time for the campaign to end is at hand every dollar expected of this county will be met.

The following names have been secured as members of a Thousand Dollar Club in the past week. There may be other Thousand Dollar subscriptions which have not yet been reported to County Headquarters, but the following have subscribed the amounts set opposite their names of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds:

Obituary

Thomas Springer was born near Pine Bluff, Arkansas in Ashley county, June 10, 1841, and died October 1, 1918, aged 77 years 4 months and 21 days. He was married to Miss Bettie Williams in 1876. To them were born eight children. He leaves to mourn his loss a faithful wife and four children, Mrs. Lizzie Crook, John Springer, Miss Pattie Springer and Willie Springer, all of the Antioch neighborhood.

His devotion to duty won for him the love of all who knew him. He suffered a number of years but we can rest assured that his sufferings are all over and he is now occupying the mansion that Jesus had prepared for him. Every thing that human hands could do was done for his relief and cure, but all was in vain. Only time and God can comfort the heart of the grief stricken companion and children who cared for him as a mother for her babe. He can now walk without help.

May each of his children emulate his Christian example, live so they too, may have a home with their sainted father in the beautiful beyond.

Interment in the Hood cemetery, services conducted by Rev. W. L. Suggs of Oakland, Tennessee.

PART PLAYED IN WAR WINS CROWN PRINCE VACATION

QUICK ABSORPTION OF FOURTH LOAN WEAPON TO FORCE KAISER BACK TO RHINE.

MANY SPIES YET AT LARGE

Allies' Wonderful Successes Overcomes Morale Displayed by Germans Early in the War.

The German Crown Prince has been given a six months' vacation, according to dispatches received by way of Amsterdam. His beaten armies have been shoved back a long way from Paris and the heir to the German throne has been retired, at least temporarily, from his command. The fighting Americans, backed up by the Liberty Loans, have already accomplished so much in the job of whipping the Kaiser.

America has a chance to shove the Crown Prince even farther back into private life. With the Fourth Liberty Loan opening September 28 the massed avalanche of American dollars will again hit the Hun line. Since the Third Loan was made the Allies have stopped the German offensive, saved Paris and are now slowly but surely shoving the Hun armies back toward the Rhine.

Kaiser Losing Caste.

Undoubtedly the quick subscription of the Fourth Liberty Loan will cast a gloom over Germany. Reports coming from that country indicate that the Kaiser is losing some of the old popularity that made him an idol.

Reports from neutral countries and articles in the German papers show that the Huns are cheering their people by telling them that the Americans are not wholeheartedly in the war. They have claimed that Americans would never be able to land a big army in France. Now that the army is there, the Hun generals are telling the people that America will fail to furnish the money to support that army and give it food and ammunition. Any indication that Americans are failing to buy Fourth Liberty Bonds will have a wonderfully cheering effect on the German General Staff. Such news would please these arrogant Huns better than a report that they had captured a division of French, English or American soldiers.

Hun Watches America.

The Huns know that America has the money and the men to carry the war right up to the gates of Berlin. What the Kaiser is now hoping is that American people will be careless or indifferent about furnishing the money that is to keep the United States army ready and fit to fight. His spies that have not been captured and failed are busy. They are watching the situation in every part of this country. Sooner or later their reports reach the master spy in Berlin and the Prussian war lords are mightily pleased when they can mark off a certain spot in the United States as having failed to do its duty to its national government.

What the German general staff would like to see would be an American army in France, cut off from this country by means of the submarines. They would like to see it weakened and starved so it could be cut to pieces by German forces. Lack of money to support the American army will cut it off from this country just as much as though all our transports and freight ships were being sunk by submarines. The American dollar that is not used in buying Fourth Liberty bonds is a slacker dollar and it is helping to cut off the American boys who are over there from the help and the needed support back home.
